PHARE PONLEU SELPAK

Presentation

Phare Ponleu Selpak (PPS) is a non-profit Cambodian association and NGO working with vulnerable children, young adults and their families through 3 interweaving fields of intervention: Arts schools, social support; and educational programs.

Phare Ponleu Selpak is created in 1994 by eight young Cambodians who returned to their country after a childhood spent in the refugee camps at the Thai border. They wanted to help to rebuild their country through social and educative actions and, importantly, the recognition of their culture and Khmer art. The organization gradually gathered more and more children who were living in difficult situations such as streets kids, trafficked children, and orphans, and helped them to reintegrate into society through the medium of culture and arts, which they have found to aid concentration, communication, and creative thinking skills thus vastly improving the choices available to the children as they reach adulthood. For nineteen years, PPS has developed many different artistic activities, as well as formal and non-formal education

Vision

Phare Ponleu Selpak passionately believes in the power of the arts as a tool for human development and social change.
